

Nicole Esposito, MD

Dr. Esposito has worked in San Diego community healthcare since 2003. She completed residency at UCSD's combined Family Medicine and Psychiatry program in 2008. She is currently board certified in Family Medicine, Psychiatry, and Addiction Medicine. After residency, she began working at North County Health Services and served as their Clinical Director of Behavioral Health Services from 2010-2017. At North County Health Services her main areas of focus were in clinic leadership around pain management best practices, safe controlled substance prescribing, and primary care behavioral health integration. Currently, she works for the County of San Diego Health and Human Services Agency as the Assistant Clinical Director within the Behavioral Health Department. Dr. Esposito has served as the Medical Lead for the County's Drug Medi-Cal Organized Delivery System which implemented just recently in July 2018.
